Biography

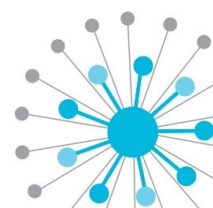

Lisa is an independent occupational therapist (OT) and case manager, who qualified in 1996. She has a wide-ranging clinical background and now specialises in vocational rehabilitation, case management, complex neurological rehabilitation and occupational therapy in occupational health.

Alongside her case management role, Lisa works with a wide variety of clients including businesses, statutory bodies and private individuals. Her work includes provision of home and workplace assessments, identification and co-ordination of multidisciplinary rehabilitation, OT treatment and assessment for major adaptations and equipment.

Lisa provides OT assessment, treatment and case management to clients with a wide variety of physical, psychological and cognitive injuries including multiple fractures, amputations, head/brain and spinal injuries. Lisa works predominantly with adults but has clinical experience of working with children.

Lisa utilises a holistic approach within her OT interventions to consider client needs within a bio-psycho-social framework. She endeavours to use evidence-based best practice, in a cost-effective and timely way. She has extensive experience in return to work planning and in work retention strategies and is skilled at report writing, including using Allied Health Professionals Health and Work Report.

Lisa is a committee member of the National Executive Committee of the Royal College of Occupational Therapists Specialist Section for Work (RCOT SS-W).
