Biography

Since qualifying as an occupational therapist in 1999, Elaine has gained extensive experience in trauma and elective orthopaedics, community rehabilitation, enablement, intermediate care, falls management, acute care, oncology and palliative care and amputees. She enjoyed a long career in the NHS providing services and rehabilitation in clients' homes, day care centres, wards, hospices, clinics and prison environments to ensure their needs were met, often in challenging circumstances.

Elaine has been a case manager since 2019 and in 2023 she won the Case Management Society UK (CMSUK) Catastrophic Injury Case Manager of the Year Award.

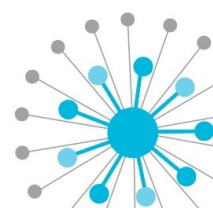

Elaine prefers a functional approach to enable clients to maximise their potential and uses a wide range of clinical tools to assess, plan and monitor treatment. She is able to build strong multi-disciplinary teams to support the client, and has extensive experience of working collaboratively with solicitors, insurers and various statutory, private and charity organisations. She works to high standards of clinical governance, having experience for a number of years as a specialist advisor to the Care Quality Commission (CQC), completing inspections onsite in care homes, acute hospitals, community hospitals and clinics.

Elaine is also committed to new developments that can assist clients in their rehabilitation journey and is a member of the CMSUK Research Panel formed in 2024, and sat on a judging panel for the CMSUK Case Manager of the Year Awards 2024.

Elaine has previous experience of working with the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE) as a panel member for the adoption and impact programme.

Elaine has also been involved in the training and teaching of other professionals throughout her career and presented at the CMSUK Conference 2024.

Elaine also works as an expert witness providing occupational therapy and care reports for the court.
